Topic/Art/Science

TOPIC – World War 2 and Refugee Week

At the end of World War 2, due to many people being displaced (removed) from their native countries, over 1 million people started seeking refuge and safety in other countries. A lot of these European refugees ended up in refugee camps in countries such as Syria, Egypt and Palestine.

- Task – Listen to the this podcast and read the information about the camps that were set up for the WW2 European refugees in Syria and Egypt. Write a paragraph explaining what life would have been like for them in a refugee camp.

We still have refugees today who are fleeing war, poverty and famine across the world seeking safety and the chance of a better life in a new country. This week is Refugee Week which bring awareness of the problems facing refugees today. This year's Refugee Week theme is 'Imagine'.

- Task – Watch this video here about Aya who has fled Syria to find refuge in the country of Lebanon. Imagine that you have had to flee your home country because of war or famine. Imagine what it would be like to have to leave your family behind, or what living in a refugee camp might be like.

the use of stage directions to show how the characters are feeling.

Activity 3 –

Recap show not tell in script writing. This is an important feature in playscript writing as your characters need to be able to show how they are feeling without having to say it.

- Imagine that Bruno's Grandmother comes to Out-With to visit. Write a short script of a conversation between Bruno and his Grandmother. What would Bruno say to her? How would Grandmother respond? Use all the skills and features we have looked at so far and add in some stage directions and scene setting that use the show not tell skill.
- Have a go at this quiz to see if you have remembered all the important skills of writing a playscript.

Activity 4 & 5 –

Plan, write and edit.

Imagine that Grandmother and Grandfather are travelling home from Christmas dinner in a taxi. Imagine how they are feeling after the events of the day. Based on what you know, write a playscript of their conversation on their journey home.

Imagine that this scene will be included in the movie version of the book – what show not tell skills will you include?

Remember to use all the other skills and features that we have looked at this week – character lists, stage directions, scene setting and dialogue.

Remember to punctuate your sentences correctly and add any other skills you can.

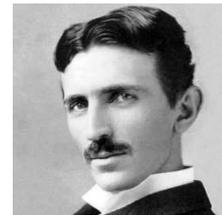

Put all your thoughts and ideas down into either a short paragraph or short story.

ART – Refugee Week

- Task – Lots of refugees end up making life threatening journeys to flee to safety, often stuck in the back of lorries for days or having to make a crossing by sea in an overloaded small boat. Lots of refugees use their horrific experiences to create beautiful pieces of art. Using this link or this link as inspiration, recreate your own refugee art based on a dangerous boat crossing. You can use anything you have at home – pens, pencils, paint or even try a bit of collage to add texture and colour to your artwork.

SCIENCE – Electricity Nikola Tesla

- Task – Research who Nikola Tesla was and why his contributions to science are important. Write a short biography and make a list of his accomplishments. Use this video link here to help and this fact page.

- Task – Tesla, Inc. Tesla Motors was founded in July 2003 by engineers Martin Eberhard and Marc Tarpenning and Elon Musk became the company's CEO in October 2008. The company's name is a tribute to the inventor and electrical engineer Nikola Tesla.

They designed the world's first ever premium all-electric sedan car which has become the best car in its class in every category. They chose to name their

	company after Nikola Tesla because he created the induction motor and alternating-current (AC) power transmission. Write a paragraph explaining what an induction ac motor is and why we still use it today. Use this video link here to help you.
