

1) Read the following page of the story again.

Mrs Khan lets us do all sorts of interesting things that we have never done before. In the first week of school, she helped us make musical instruments out of things we found in the school's recycling bin, and in the second week, she brought in a brand-new comic book to read to us that wasn't even in the school library yet.

Then in the third week, something happened that was so surprising and made everyone so curious, that even Mrs Khan couldn't make us focus on our lessons properly. And it all began with the empty chair.

It was on the third Tuesday after school had started, and Mrs Khan was taking the register. She was just about to call my name when there was a loud knock at the door. Usually when there's a knock on the door it's just someone from another class bringing a note, so no one really pays any attention; but this time it was Mrs Sanders, the Head. Mrs Sanders always wears her hair in the exact same way and peers over her glasses whenever she talks to anyone. Everyone is scared of her, because when she gives detention, she doesn't just make you sit in a room; she makes you memorise long

2) Decide whether each question is a retrieval question (R) or a language question (L) and write it in the column.

3) Answer each question

R/L	Question
	When did the children make musical instruments out of recycling materials found in the school bin?
	Find and copy a word in the text that means the same as being eager or keen to know something.
	Write the word from the text that is an antonym for full.
	In the story, who is the head of the school?
	What was Mrs Khan doing when there was a knock at the door?
	Explain the meaning of the phrase 'peers over her glasses whenever she talks to anyone'.
